Leah makes reader-friendly infographics and various other data visualizations, such as custom icons, maps, graphs and charts. She loves making research digestible. She also designs presentations, reports, and marketing materials. Leah's client base comprises mainly market and policy researchers, social scientists, and nonprofit organizations, but she is always looking to work on new and interesting projects.

Leah worked with IES to design the Communities for Clean Water Initiative 2018 Report and the 2018 Contaminants of Emerging Concern Guidebook.
